A GREAT RUSH OF WATER.

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE DONE AT PITTSBURG AND VICINITY.

The Flood Likely to Exceed Any Since 1852—Lumbermen Suffer Heavy Losses. Many Houses Swept Away—Bridges Destroyed—Three Tunnels Damaged.

PITTSBURG, July 12.—The heavy rains of Monday and Monday night at the headwaters of the Monongahela and Cheat rivers started Tuesday evening one of the most sudden and perhaps before it subsides, one of the most disastrous floods since 1852.

At Greensboro, Pa., the river rose thirty-two feet in twenty-four hours. Early Wednesday morning the water measured forty-five feet in the channel at that place and was at a standstill.

A great portion of Brownsville is six feet under water and much damage has already been done. At ten o'clock a. m. the water measured forty-three feet and began slowly to recede. It was eighteen inches higher than the flood of 1852.

From Brownsville to Pittsburg and all along Cheat river reports are coming in of tremendous loss to lumbermen from breaking booms, to coal operators from damaged craft and demolition of coal tipples, and to private individuals whose residences and property are flooded.

Only one life has been lost so far as learned. George Getter was instantly killed Tuesday evening by the parting of a cable rope, with which he was checking a loaded coal barge at Walton's landing.

Telephone and telegraph wires along the river are down and exact information is very hard to obtain.

A report from Clarksburg, W. Va., on the west fork of the Monongahela river is to the effect that twenty dwellings have been swept away and damage to property is almost incalculable.

A number of iron and wooden bridges and several large sawmills, together with quantities of lumber and logs, have gone down with the flood. A large number of people are homeless at this place.

At Monongahela City all the lower part of the town is inundated, and the people driven from their homes are camping in the streets on higher ground.

Early Wednesday morning the heavy drift, in the shape of broken bridges, barges, coal tipples, logs and, in some instances, dwellings and shanties reached this city. They dashed against the bridge piers, and were snapped and broken like twigs by the overwhelming force of the current.

At 10:50 the river marks showed twenty-one feet nine inches and rising. Every boat and steamer on the river is still in peril from the heavy drift, and every few minutes the whistles of the advanced guard of the line of boats sound new alarms of approaching danger.

A Wheeling special says that the line of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, between Wheeling and Parkersburg, is unprecedentedly blocked by the storm. On the Parkersburg branch three tunnels are caved in.

The Rowlesburg bridge, over Cheat river, is down, and other bridges have been swept away, while the track is covered many feet deep with earth and lumber at many points.

All trains from the west via Parkersburg, are using the tracks of the Ohio River road, and go east via Pittsburg and Cumberland six or eight hours late. Several bridges between Wheeling and Pittsburg are badly damaged.

At Fairmount the new iron bridge of the New England Gas Coal company was destroyed, involving a loss of $60,000.

At 2 p. m. the marks in the Monongahela river showed twenty-three feet and rising slowly. Every boat in the harbor had steam up prepared for an emergency. It is now thought that the worst is past.

A West Elizabeth, Pa., special says that the river came to a stand of 9 o'clock a. m. and at noon began slowly receding. The point reached was the highest ever known, being twelve inches above the flood of 1852. The entire town below the railroad tracks is from six to ten feet under water.

Travel on the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston railway has been suspended indefinitely, several miles of track are under water, and a number of bridges are washed away or badly damaged. O'Neil & Company lost fifteen coal barges and a loading tripple; Weigel Brothers a number of rafts, coal boats and barges, and the Jenkins' tripple is gone.

The farmers and gardeners along the river lose nearly their entire crops of grain and vegetables.

A Wheeling telegram says that the losses from Monday's storm in the upper Ohio valley, to private property and damage to railroads, will foot up nearly $1,000,000.

At Piedmont, W. Va., the long trestle is a complete wreck.

At Grafton several planing mills and thousands of logs were carried away, involving a loss of $200,000.

At Brownsville, Pa., the total loss is estimated at $25,000. The Knobb Coal company lose their tripple and several coal boats. Axton's boat yard and several valuable rafts were carried away.

At McKeesport, Pa., the damage to property along the Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers will be nearly double that ever before experienced from the same cause, and is roughly estimated at $100,000.

Woods' iron-mills are almost entirely submerged and will be damaged about $25,000. Fifty or more dwellings are full of water almost to the roofs, and over one hundred families have moved out, many of them losing all of their goods. No loss of life is reported.

At Braddock, Pa., a considerable portion of the town is under water, the homeless families camping out on the hillside. The waterworks are threatened with destruction. The twelve-inch natural gas main supplying Carnegie's Homestead mills is broken and the supply of fuel cut off.

Rochester, Penn., at noon, reported twenty-five feet and rising. The river is full of debris and no boats passing.

At Steubenville, O., at 10 a. m. the river was twenty-one feet and rising twelve inches an hour. Tuesday evening it was scarcely six feet. No serious damage has been reported. Six coal barges and a tripple opposite Steubenville were wrecked during the night.

From Parkersburg, West Virginia.
PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 12.—The destruction of property by flood all along the Little Kanawha and Ohio is greater than in 1854, when the great flood came. The farms are flooded and hundreds of acres of growing crops and harvested grain are deluged. Millions of feet of timber are afloat in the swift current, going to destruction. The loss in this vicinity will be $15,000, and in this and adjoining counties will be more than $100,000. Every stream is out of its banks. Numbers of families have had to move to higher ground. A family named White had retired last night, when the flood entered their home, reaching nearly to the top of the bed covering before they got out.

FURTHER FACTS

Regarding the Tragedy in Whiteley County, Kentucky.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 12.—Never before in the history of eastern Kentucky has there prevailed so much excitement as now exists in Whiteley county over Sunday's bloody battle. To more fully get at the details of the tragedy, your reporter visited that section.

Laurel Fork church, an ancient log building used by the Baptist congregation, was found in a wild, lonely section, fifteen miles from the railroad and nestling in among the hills of Pine mountain. Near by ran Laurel Fork, a branch of the Cumberland river, and everything about exhibited evidence of only a primitive civilization. The inhabitants there are farmers, moonshiners and hunters, and much of their time is taken up in settling old feuds. They are, however, hospitable, and if a stranger makes known his business safety is assured.

The incident leading to the fatal fight of Sunday occurred a month ago. Much Rose accused Tom Fuson, his brother-in-law, of stealing $5. This led to bad blood, and every effort to effect a compromise of the difference proved futile. Rose and Fuson have a number of times sought each other's life-blood, and more than one personal encounter has occurred. Friends sided with the determined men, and the result was each had a dozen well armed followers, and war was declared ten days ago.

Saturday each faction gave it out that its members would worship at Laurel Fork the next day. Quickly following there was a rush to arms, and every preparation made for attack and defense. As if by appointment, each faction met in the church yard while the shepherd of the little mountain flock was taking his text for the regular discourse. That sermon was never completed, as the brave mountaineers opened fire upon each other, and shot succeeded shot for several minutes, and blood began to flow freely. The antagonists having exhausted their ammunition, gave up the contest, but not without the loss of life.

Riddled with leaden vengeance, stretched in their own blood, lay Ewel Lawson and his son John. Near by were Tom, Jim and Enos Fuson, John Parton, Scott Parton, Mitch Rose, Hiram Rose, his father, and Lewis Perry, all badly hurt. The little church was made a temporary hospital, and all available aid rendered the wounded. The injured men have been removed to their several homes, and Tom Fuson has since died. Hiram Rose has his lungs full of shot and can live but a few hours. The other men are badly injured. Scott Parton and Enos Fuson will probably die.

No further trouble is feared at present, but when the dead have been buried and the wounded get better or die, there will no doubt be a revival of the feud.

WAS AFRAID OF HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Norton Gives Her Reasons for Leaving Her Spouse.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 12.—Mrs. Emma S. Norton, who eloped from St. Louis with Editor Henry W. Moore, of the Post-Dispatch, says: "I would never have left St. Louis with Mr. Moore had my husband not threatened to take my life. When I went to my home on Friday they told me that Norton would kill me, and it was in fear of my life that I left. No other woman but myself could have lived with him ten years, and I fairly worshipped him, but his treatment of me was that of a brute. He cursed me, he beat me and dragged me about like a dog, and yet I lived with him because I loved him, and because I thought his heart would change."

"I don't believe there is a man in St. Louis that has the unbearable and uncontrollable temper that Mr. Norton has. At times he is like a madman. He never had cause to think of me as other than a loving and dutiful wife, for I was most devoted to him in every day of my life. When he was sick I never left his bedside, but watched him day after day and night after night until I was almost wasted away. Then those statements that Mr. Moore had been visiting our house daily are the most malicious lies. Why, he has not, during the three months we lived there, set foot within my house."

"Then those stories that we have stolen Mr. Norton's money are just simply awful. I have not one cent of Norton's money and he knows it. He knows I have never had his money, which is all I have got, and our arrest on the charge of grand larceny in stealing $30,000 is preposterous."

General Sheridan's Condition.

NONQUITT, Mass., July 12.—The following bulletin was issued at 9 o'clock: Gen. Sheridan has had some periods of nervousness and restlessness, but at the present time he is very quiet. He rested well last night. His general muscular system exhibits a fair degree of strength, but his voice is weak. His respiration continues to improve. He has taken a good quantity of peptonized milk with crackers, a small portion of boiled fish and a mutton chop.

A Double Murder.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 12.—A man and woman were found in the river near the water works this morning. The bodies were covered with marks of violence, the heads of each being crushed, and the man's throat cut from ear to ear. Both had stones weighing thirty pounds or more tied to their ankles. So far the bodies have not been identified. No clew to the murderer.

Accidentally Shot.

PRINCETON, Ind., July 12.—John Stone, a prominent citizen of this county and a member of the gun club, was mortally wounded yesterday afternoon by a discharge from his gun, he having dropped the arm while carrying it.

THEIR CLERKS CONFESS.

CHAIRMAN HOGE AND MURPHY IN A VERY TIGHT PLACE.

Inspector Bonfield's Opinion on Several Points—The Reading Adopts an Economic System—Several Hundred Men to Be Discharged—Labor News.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The most sensational development in the Burlington conspiracy cases is the confession of John J. Kelley and John H. McGillivray, the clerks respectively to Chairmen Hoge and Murphy of striking engineers' grievance committee. It seems to settle the connection of these two chairmen with the circular set out to induce engineers to come here and secure work on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad for the purpose of disabling its engines, and is strong enough evidence of conspiracy to land both men in the penitentiary.

Inspector Bonfield said Tuesday night that when the men were locked up, they sent for him and, presuming that they wanted to talk, he took Mr. Stone and Attorney Collier, of the Burlington road, with him. The inspector further said:

"They told us fully of their connection with the circular. Then, as the result of the conference, they wrote out all they knew, and I can say their statement was perfectly satisfactory to Mr. Stone and Mr. Collier. I had to leave before the statement were fully completed, but understood that they settled satisfactorily and beyond the possibility of a doubt the authorship of the salaried and emery circular. It also settles who John Sowers is, the man none of the reporters could find."

"According to this statement," continued the inspector, "Sowers is Hoge. When the circulars were sent to the different divisions inquiries as to its authenticity were received in numbers from chief engineers who doubted whether such a radical circular could be sent out by Hoge, and asking if it were genuine. Both these young men answered a number of these inquiries, invariably saying that by the direction of Hoge the circular was all right. Letters addressed to John Sowers and left at the National hotel were taken to Hoge in the committee rooms at the Grand Pacific and there answered by these men under Hoge's instructions."

The Switchmen's Strike.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Referring to the switchmen's strike, Paul Morton said: "The trouble originated on the Hannibal & St. Joseph and is wholly confined to that road. Mr. Merrell wanted to reduce the force of switchmen at Kansas City, the men threatened to walk out and did so, when Mr. Merrell discharged the men. Altogether I do not believe the number exceeds thirty. We have men on the way there already to take the strikers' places, and the work will suffer no inconvenience whatever."

Cutting Down Expenses.

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—The Reading railroad has introduced a system of economy in the operating of its general office on South Fourth street and its local stations which has resulted in the dismissal of many employees and a heavy reduction of expenses.

At the general office President Corbin has introduced a system of bookkeeping which enables a few men to do the work of a large force without the necessity of increasing the salary of a single clerk. In pursuance of this policy a number of men have been laid off at the Reading office, and a saving of $50,000 to $75,000 a year effected in the item of salary alone.

Changes have been made in the handling of coal at Third and Berks and Ninth and Green streets stations which have enabled the company to dispense with the services of eighty to one hundred laborers.

A Fort Richmond the force of laborers has been reduced over three hundred.

About $2,000,000 a year are saved in the item of wages to these laborers. Proportionate reductions are to be made in other departments of the road, and the managers of the company say that they intend to save every possible dollar in expenses.

Strike Over.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 12.—The strike at Drew & Selby's is over, the hands having returned to work.

RESISTANCE USELESS.

Iowa Saloonists Admits That They Have Struggled in Vain.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, July 12.—A decision of more than ordinary importance and involving a new point under the prohibitory liquor law of Iowa has been rendered by Judge Phelps, of the District court. Two years ago a saloonkeeper, whose place of business was enjoined as a nuisance, appealed to the Iowa supreme court, and after filing a supersedeas bond continued the traffic. The injunction was sustained and the saloonkeeper again gave bond, carried his case to the United States supreme court, where it is not likely to be reached for a year or two yet.

Recently proceedings were brought to have him arrested and fined for contempt of court in continuing the illegal traffic, notwithstanding the injunction. His defense was that pending the decision of the Federal court, the injunction did not apply, but the district court now decides that the injunction must stand and that the saloon must close. The saloonkeeper at once closed up and others will follow suit, as they admit that further resistance to the law is useless.

Young Woman Slain By Her Aunt.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 12.—The sensational murder of Miss Hattie Debaun, aged eighteen, by her aunt, Mrs. Mary Jenkins, at Tecumseh, has created great excitement. The Debauns and the Jenkins have not been friendly for several years and lately Mrs. Jenkins several times ordered her niece off the premises. Monday evening Miss Debaun went to Jenkins' orchard with two other girls to get some apples. Mrs. Jenkins ordered them away, and during a parley of words, Mrs. Jenkins' four-year-old boy ran out with a musket, which Mrs. Jenkins took and fired at the girls, inflicting fatal wounds. Mrs. Jenkins gave herself up and was placed in jail here. She is thirty-three years old.

HARRISON'S BIOGRAPHY.

General Lew Wallace Commissioned to Do the Work.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 12.—Gen. Lew Wallace, commissioned to write the life of Benjamin Harrison, has taken up his residence for the time being at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. H. Blair, on Delaware street, within a stone's throw from Gen. Harrison's own residence, and eschewing all society, save that of the Harrisons, is hard at work upon his task. The author of "The Fair God" and "Ben Hur" has a charming place in which to labor. It is in a study, from the windows of which one looks out through dense foliage of maples, which grow all about the house.

It seems to be Wallace's plan to imbue himself as much as may be with the character of Harrison. Well nigh every night finds him at Harrison's house, mingling among the guests, watching carefully every movement, listening to every utterance of the host.

"I feel," said Wallace as he sat in the cool library at Mrs. Blair's "as if this were in some respects the most difficult of my literary tasks."

The principal reason is brevity of time allotted for its completion, and the fact that it must go forth from my hands not carefully finished as a whole, but as a series of sparks struck out from flint. There can be no elaboration, no attempt at fine writing. It will be a plain, unpretentious biography, and must be done largely from dictation. There is no time to consult old manuscripts, or to dabble into interesting records, for the whole work must be accomplished at the end of one month.

THE OLD LIBBY PRISON.

Probabilities That It Will Remain in Richmond for Some Time Yet.

RICHMOND, Va., July 12.—In February last Rawlin & Rose made a sale of the old Libby prison to William H. Gray, of Chicago. The price to be paid was $23,500. February 27 Mr. Gray made a cash payment of $5,825. The other payments were to be made in six, nine and twelve months, or sooner, at the option of the purchaser. Gray afterward disposed of the property to a Chicago syndicate at a considerable bonus. Nothing has been heard of the party recently. The date of second payment is August 27. There seems to be an impression that no more payments will be made, and that the Chicago syndicate will sell the property at auction. The scheme of a National museum of war relics and horrors has not materialized as was expected, and the purchasers seem to have an elephant on their hands. The Richmond owners of the property stipulated from the first that not a brick should be removed until the entire purchase money was paid or amply secured, and from present prospects Libby prison will continue to be a point of interest to some people visiting Richmond for some time to come.

Langtry and the Lily.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Mrs. LeBreton, mother of Mrs. Langtry, accompanied by her two children, have arrived in this city. It is stated Mrs. LeBreton will soon be followed by Lily's husband, and rumor has it that all difficulties which have interfered with Mrs. Langtry's freeing herself from matrimonial bonds have at last been cleared away. The current story is that Langtry, having consented to Lily's desire, will follow his wife and mother-in-law to California. There he will at once be served with papers in a divorce suit. He will make no defense, and the coveted divorce will be granted quietly and with but little delay. Langtry will then return home and remarry, while Lily will accompany Frederick Gebhart to the altar.

MARBLE QUARRY ACCIDENT.

Two Men Instantly Killed and Several Seriously Injured.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., July 12.—While five men were at work yesterday under the side of the main shaft of Schwoyer & Lies' marble quarry, on the Chester valley branch of the Philadelphia & Reading railway, several tons of marble came crashing down upon them. Two of them were instantly killed and the other three dangerously hurt.

Their names are as follows:
Killed—Albert Apple, aged thirty-five years, Poland; Joseph Akens, aged fifty years.

Injured—John Hartman, a Pole, fatally. Frank Shultz, legs crushed; John Sheridan, aged twenty-six years, legs crushed and internally injured. Will die.

Inspector Byrnes Complimented.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Police Inspector Byrnes puts in his vacation at a small hotel at Long Branch, and is there now. Ben West, the proprietor, is proud of his silverware, and talks too much about it on the outside. Monday night burglars entered the house and carried away all the silverware—or no, not all, for they left Inspector Byrnes' sterling silver napkin-ring and his small crucet-stand, both of which were his personal property. They had examined them, and then, out of compliment, put them back in their places in front of the inspector's seat. The rest of the tables were in the wildest disorder.

Caught the Wrong End of the Gun.

CYNTHIANA, Ind., July 12.—About 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Mr. John Stone, a prominent young farmer near this place, started for his home. When about a mile from town he leaned back and attempted to pick his rifle up from the bed of the wagon with the muzzle toward his breast, when the hammer of the gun caught on a loose board, causing it to explode. The bullet entered his left side and penetrated the heart, killing him instantly.

Fire in a Livery Stable.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 12.—Fire at 3 o'clock this morning in the Parter Avenue livery stables, corner of Parter and Plymouth avenues, burned the building with its contents. Forty horses and two men—John Borchard and William Benjamin—were incinerated.

THURSDAY EVEN'G, JULY 12, 1888.

Workingmen Opposed to Harrison.

"Of all the labor and reform publications coming to this office—nearly two hundred each week—but one has a kind word for the Chicago nominees; a few pass the matter by in silence, while fully 85 per cent. take positive grounds against the ticket. It is only necessary to note the manner in which Judge Gresham's name is used by the labor press in order to measure the stupendous folly at the Chicago convention in turning a deaf ear to the people and striking hands with the railway and corporate interests which sought to control its actions from the opening, until a representative of Wall street had been named for second place on the ticket. In addition to the expression of the labor press, we have received letters from the heads of K. of L. assemblies, Trades Unions, and trades and labor assemblies from Maine to California, all breathing the same sentiments, and all saying that organized, workingmen, regardless of party, propose to take a lively hand in the fight precipitated upon them by the Depeew-Crocker-Thurston-Hammond-Estee crowd."

Cheap Whisky or Cheap Clothes.

The True American says: "Does the workingman, the wage earner, prefer cheap whisky or cheap clothes and cheap fuel and cheap rents?"

"Does the wage earner's wife want cheap blankets and carpets, cheap houses and cheap coal, or does she want cheap rum and tobacco?"

"Do the charitable people who step in and give of their time and labor and means to alleviate the misery which drunkenness brings to the innocent wives and children, prefer cheap whisky for the husband or cheap clothes for the children?"

"These are questions that have been asked, and will find their answer at the coming election."

MAJOR P. P. JOHNSTON has resigned as member of the Legislature from Fayette County.

THE Democrats are in favor of cheap necessities of life, the Republicans declare in favor of cheap pipes and cheap whisky. Which does the honest workingman prefer?

Forty-seven cents is the tariff tax paid by the wage workers out of every dollar earned. That tax goes to enrich the few and to breed extravagance in national affairs. Who wants to pay it?—Ex.

EIGHTY public buildings costing the Government $22,000,000, are in course of erection, and ambitious statesmen are trying to add new ones to the list every day. It is a big feather in a Congressman's cap to get an appropriation for a public building. "Tis true, but pity 'tis 'tis true."

In 1873, the Republicans demonetized silver. In the face of this historical fact they in their platform adopted at Chicago a few days ago denounced "the Democratic administration in its effort to demonetize silver." This is gall of the unadulterated sort. But it is in keeping with the rest of the platform.

Good crops make good times among the farmers and we have good crops this year. Southern roads report a shortage of cars to handle their traffic. In Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky there is a large wheat crop to move, in addition to large crops of other products, and where to get cars to move them troubles the railway managers.

It is learned this morning that Thomas Forman, a Republican of Washington, is actively at work electioneering for the office of Sheriff. This will precipitate a hot fight in August, but Democrats need have no fear of the result. Mr. John W. Alexander, the Democratic nominee, is one of Mason County's best and most worthy citizens, and deserves a warm and enthusiastic support at the hands of his party.

WALLACE GRUELLE says the Democrats will carry Indiana next fall by at least 10,000 majority. Mr. Gruelle is editor of the Labor Signal, the organ of the working men in that State, and ought to know pretty well what he is talking about. The Signal will not support either Cleveland or Harrison, but will do all it can against the latter. His course in Congress and during the labor strikes has rendered him peculiarly obnoxious to the laboring class.

ONE can judge how they regard General Harrison out on the Pacific Coast by the following, taken from the San Francisco Examiner: "Mr. Harrison's motto is: 'Free trade in labor and protection for the trusts.' That this Chinese matter was not an exceptional thing with the Chicago candidate has been proved by his whole career. He has always opposed the efforts of workingmen to better their condition. In 1877 he organized a militia company to shoot down strikers. Other distinguished Republicans advised moderation, but Mr. Harrison insisted upon force."

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

Official Proceedings of the Meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee at Catlettsburg.

The meeting of the chairmen of the Democratic Committees of the Ninth Congressional district held at Catlettsburg, Ky., July 11, 1888, for the purpose of selecting the time and place of holding next Congressional convention was called to order by Thomas J. Chenoweth, of Maysville, Ky. John C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, Ky., was chosen secretary.

Bath, by proxy, M. Williams.
Boyd, by chairman, J. S. Patton.
Bracken, not represented.
Carter, by chairman, J. R. Botts.
Fleming, by chairman, J. P. Harbeson.
Greenup, by chairman, Mr. Biggs.
Johnson, by chairman, John C. C. Mayo.
Lawrence, by proxy, M. Williams.
Lewis, not represented.
Martin, not represented.
Mason, by chairman, Thos. J. Chenoweth.
Nicholas, by proxy, Thos. J. Chenoweth.
Robertson, by proxy, Thos. J. Chenoweth.
Rowan, not represented.

On motion the counties represented by proxy were given a vote.

Next came the selection of the place for the convention, which resulted in the unanimous choice of Maysville.

The following resolution was presented by Judge Harbeson and adopted:

Resolved, That a convention of the Democrats of the Ninth Congressional district is hereby called to convene in Maysville, Ky., on Tuesday, the 21st day of August, 1888, at the hour of 11 o'clock, a. m., and the various counties composing the district will hold conventions in their several counties on Monday, the 13th day of August, 1888, to send delegates to said convention in Maysville and the counties will either hold mass meetings on the said 13th day of August at 2 o'clock p. m. of that date, or will hold precinct meetings on Saturday, the 11th day of August, to select delegates to meet in county convention on Monday, the 13th at 2 o'clock p. m.; and the basis of representation shall be one vote for each two hundred votes cast for Cleveland and Hendricks, and one vote for every fraction of one hundred votes and less than two hundred.

Resolved, That the Democratic papers of the district be requested to publish these resolutions.

THOS. J. CHENOWETH, Chairman.
JOHN C. C. MAYO, Secretary.

THE Fifth ward base ball club and a nine west of Limestone creek will cross bats to-morrow afternoon for a purse. The game will be played on the grounds near the K. C. depot, if the backwater water does not interfere. If the river is too high the game will be played in Ches-ter.

Fashion Fads.

Green's the wear, even for stockings—pale green, silk clocked with white, or shot green and white embroidered with both threads.

A valley lily in white enamel relieved against its leaf in dark green art a fox glove in diamonds and pink enamel, are among the latest and loveliest of the flower brooches.

Ellen Terry has just worn an overdress knit of pure silver-thread, and a fashion-writer wants to know what good American will follow her lead, and so provide a new handiwork for her less fortunate sisters.

Paris now ordains that stockings shall match the shoe instead of the costume, and in the matter of foot-gear leans largely to shoes or half-shoes of black or suede undressed kid, with, for carriage or house wear, slippers of varied brozons.

Wide hats of string or straw, very openly knotted and guileless of lining, with a flower or two stuck on one side, are accounted wonderfully stylish; but it is suggested that if shade be their purpose, a cabbage leaf should be constructed to wear inside.

Wall Street Bets on the Election.

[New York Sun.] Owing to the extreme dullness of the market, political discussions in the Stock Exchange attained more prominence than usual, and so did the betting. Several thousand dollars were wagered in the Exchange upon the result of the Presidential campaign. The early betting was two to one on success of the Democratic ticket. Broker A. H. Combs was credited with having put out about $2,500, presumably for a wealthy Democratic client, beginning at two to one on Cleveland. The last bet was said to have been $300 to $180 in favor of the St. Louis candidates.

That Reported Riot at Ewing.

The reported riot at Ewing a few days ago was greatly exaggerated. The Fleming True Blue Democrat says it appears that some youths were tussling and fighting near the depot, when Samule Clark and others tried to stop the difficulty. William English, who was some distance away, approached Clark with a drawn pistol and threatened to shoot him. Clark took up a rock and threw it at English, when at almost the same moment English discharged his pistol and shot Clark in the forehead. The ball glanced, making a painful flesh wound, but did not penetrate the skull. An excited crowd gathered, and attempted to arrest English when he discharged his weapon at them, but no one was hit. English was pursued across the fields and in his retreat fired again, emptying his pistol. He was shot at several times but not wounded, and was finely taken in a corn field and turned over to an officer. He is in custody.

CINCINNATI, O. July 12, 1888—Governor Morehouse, of Missouri, this morning reprieved for thirty days Maxwell, the murderer, under sentence to hang July 13.

AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

THE Lexington Transcript says: "Mrs. E. R. Blaine, who was suddenly taken ill on the street last Friday and came very near fainting, is, we are glad to be able to state, nearly as well as ever at the present writing. She herself thinks that her sudden attack was prostration by heat, or sunstroke."

ELOPED, BUT NOT MARRIED.

The County Seat of Nicholas County Stirred up Over a Social Sensation.

A special from Carlisle says: "This little city was thrown into a fever heat of excitement Monday morning by the announcement that Claude C. Ratliff, a coal merchant aged twenty-two, had eloped from Deering camp ground with Miss Lizzie Carpenter, a beautiful little brunette, to whom he had been paying a great deal of attention for two years. But on the arrival of the train from Maysville, whither they had eloped, the alleged groom stated positively that they were not married the night before. Telegrams were then sent to Maysville and the information gained that they were not married, but, it was said, occupied room 44 at the Central Hotel as man and wife.

"Ratliff has skipped for parts unknown for fear of the wrath of the ruined girl's father. Great threats were made about lynching, which probably hastened Ratliff's hasty departure, and should he ever return he will find this a very unhealthy section for his habitation."

The reported marriage was mentioned in the BULLETIN. Inquiry at the Central elicited the fact that "C. C. Ratliff and wife, of Carlisle," were guests of the hotel Sunday night. The couple arrived at the hotel late that evening.

Miss Carpenter's parents formerly lived on Tuckahoe Ridge, this county.

LATER—It was learned this morning that Mr. Ratliff has righted the wrong by marrying Miss Carpenter. The wedding took place Tuesday.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Aberdeen Circuit will be held next Saturday and Sunday, 14th and 15th. Preaching by the Presiding Elder Rev. J. P. Porter Saturday at 2 p. m., followed by the quarterly conference. Preaching also at 8 p. m. Love feast service Sabbath morning at 9:30. Preaching at 10:30, followed by the administration of the Lord's supper. A cordial invitation is extended to the people to attend all the services.

GEORGE M. FULTON, Pastor.

THE remains of George Corns, the mate of the St. Lawrence who dropped dead Tuesday, were interred at Moscow, O. The Enquirer says: "Mr. Corns was highly respected, a member of Cincinnati Commandery of Knights Templar No. 3, and a resident of Dayton, Ky. He was about forty-seven years old, and leaves a widow and three children, two daughters and a son, to mourn his loss. The oldest child is sixteen years of age. Said an old river man: 'George Corns was the most remarkable mate I ever knew. He never swore a word in all his life.'"

THE river and coal men at Cincinnati are kicking against the workmen on Huntington's big bridge obstructing the channel. An indignation meeting was held the other evening, but a compromise has since been effected. The contractors have agreed to stop driving piles until after the present run of coal from Pittsburg. They also state that the Kentucky side of the bridge can be completed and the trestle removed in three weeks. They now have 232 feet of the channel space obstructed by piles, leaving only 318 feet clear space on the Ohio side.

Stock, Field and Farm.

There are about 100 acres of tobacco within a radius of one mile of Rutland, Harrison County.

The wheat crop all over Tennessee is much finer than it was expected. In several counties the crop will average twenty bushels to the acre.

There is no question that the wheat crop in this country is better than the farmers anticipated and may be called an excellent crop.—Lexington Gazette.

The fastest trotting record made this season is Rosaline Wilkes' 2:17, and fastest pacing belongs to Georgetown, 2:16, both made at the Charter Oak meeting.

J. W. Guest, of Danville, has refused a bona fide cash offer of $15,000 for the two-year-old bay horse colt, Heron, by Harry O'Fallon, out of Virginia B., by Imported Buckden.

One hundred and twenty-five cars of Irish potatoes have been shipped from Gallatin, Tenn., this season, and the supply is not exhausted. An average car is 165 bushels. This potato shipment is worth $100,000 to farmers. The yield is much larger than ever expected, and there are thousands of more barrels awaiting shipment.

The Fleming True Blue Democrat says: "Wheat that has been threshed yields remarkably well. H. B. Cushman threshed 60 acres on the farm he purchased of W. H. Hendrick, and it filled 1,130 sacks, or nearly 2,400 bushels, making a yield of about 40 bushels to the acre. The oats crop is generally short, but the heads are generally of good size and well filled and there is a splendid prospect for corn. The crop never looked better at this season of the year."

Circuit Court Proceedings.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth against Nannie Green, colored, charged with infanticide, were not able to agree and were discharged.

Sam McKinnivan was convicted of carrying a pistol concealed, and his punishment fixed at ten days in jail and $50 fine. An appeal was asked.

E. C. Day, charged with committing a nuisance, was found not guilty.

THE FRENCH HARBORS.

A BILL TO STRENGTHEN THEM TO BE CONSIDERED.

German Doctors Mistaken in Their Denunciation of Dr. Mackenzie—The White Pasha Building a Railroad—The Sultan in Hot Water—Foreign News.

PARIS, July 12.—In the chamber of deputies to-day the committee appointed to inspect the defenses at Cherbourg, Brest and Toulon submitted its report. The committee suggests that sea banks and other barriers be constructed in the roadsteads at Cherbourg and Brest.

M. De Mahy asked the house to vote urgency for the consideration of the port defenses bill. Admiral Krautz, minister of marine, spoke of the importance of the measure, saying that its passage was an absolute necessity in order to render French ports secure against a coup-de-main. The bill will be considered Thursday.

Notwithstanding the factional instability of the French government, it never neglects the army or navy nor fails to provide for the defense of la belle France. Cherbourg is regarded as perhaps the finest naval harbor and the strongest in the world. It is cut out of the rock and in fifty first-class men-of-war can ride at anchor. It is carefully guarded on every side by redoubts and fortifications and completely defended by batteries on the surrounding hills.

It commands the English channel, and doubtless the naval men of England had it in view when lately so great a furor was raised over home defenses. The facility with which the French conduct all business pertaining to war is wonderful. Urgency for the measure which is to strengthen the three great naval ports of France is evidence that the French admiralty not only expects war but expects it soon.

German Doctors Wrong.

BERLIN, July 12.—The Vossische Zeitung declares that the reports printed yesterday of the German physicians who attended the late Emperor Frederick were in many respects untrue. It says it is understood that independent medical authority will soon show in a statement based on the record of the late Emperor's case that the conclusions arrived at by the German physicians were incorrect.

The Messrs. Decker, a publishing firm, have commenced an action against the National Zeitung for publishing alleged false reports of the doctors who attended Emperor Frederick. They claim heavy damages. The Deckers will issue the official reports of the case to-morrow.

The White Pasha.

STAMBUL, July 12.—A messenger who has arrived here from Handoub reports that he saw a letter written by the khalifa to Osman Digna dated June 23 which stated that the white pasha in Bahr-El-Ghazal had advanced a three days' march nearer Khartoum and was building a railroad. The khalifa had ordered the Shaggys to resist him.

Foreign Notes.

The house of commons, England, proposes to drop all the other questions and proceed with home government and home defense bills.

The death of Mr. Mandeville, the Irish representative, is being charged to his harsh treatment in prison.

Mr. Parnell declares that no prison in Ireland is habitable. The dark cell in the Kilmainham jail is a frightful place, being situated over a cesspool.

The government has instructed Sir Charles Warren, chief commissioner of police, henceforth to suppress Saturday meetings in Trafalgar square, London.

Gen. Boulanger, in an oration at a banquet at St. Servan, said he hoped his sword would return to him before another year had passed. During a visit to St. Malo Gen. Boulanger was given an ovation by the populace.

HALF FARE RATES

CINCINNATI, July 12.—The railroads are beginning to respond to the general cry for lower rates to the centennial. Yesterday the New York Central led off in this direction by announcing that on account of the centennial it would sell half-rate excursion tickets from New York city and points in New York and New England, good for return passage within fifteen days of date of sale.

The Cincinnati Passenger association, representing all the railroad lines entering the city, now follows the good example set by the New York Central. At the Burnet house to-day the association decided to, some time next week, the exact date not yet agreed upon, sell half-rate excursion tickets to the centennial, the same to be good for three days, including day of sale.

A Dastardly Deed of Redskins.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, July 12.—A gentleman has just come from the Winnebago agency and tells of a most hideous crime perpetrated by the Indians. On Sunday last a young woman from St. Paul arrived at the agency to take a position as teacher in the school. On Sunday evening she walked out, and returning after dark was assaulted by eighteen bucks, who carried her into the woods and ravished her. The unfortunate woman is reported as being in a critical condition and entirely unable to recognize the brutes who have ruined her.

Safe Robber Identified.

WARREN, O., July 12.—Watson, the burglar shot while trying to escape from the Leavittsburg postoffice six weeks ago, has been identified as an expert safe robber from Easton, Penn., and who has killed his man in Philadelphia. He has four bullet wounds, received in fights with officers. He was supposed to be a tramp until accidentally run upon Tuesday by the Scranton, Penn., physician who amputated his leg. Watson acknowledges his identity, and told where his kit of safe-breaking tools could be found near the city limits.

Maxwell's Chances.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 12.—Attorney John I. Martin began the argument for a commutation of the sentence of Brooks, alias Maxwell, before Governor Morehouse. He read the remonstrances against granting it. Of these there were less than ninety. Then letters and petitions were presented asking for mercy. There were about 3,500 in all. They were from all parts of the state, and many from outside. Six of the jury that tried Maxwell signed one petition. No intimation of the governor's probable action has yet been given.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a terse and spicy manner.

Local option was buried at Coshocton, O., forty-five ballots deep.

Springfield's Big Six band, the mammoth half dozen, will wake the echoes at the Cincinnati centennial next week.

Depositors of the deceased Second National bank of Xenia, O., jingle a dividend of 40 per cent. in their inside pockets.

All the employees of the New Philadelphia, O., rolling and sheet mill have been ordered out by the American Iron association.

The echoing void found by burglars after they had worked an hour to break open the safe of the Wapakoneta, O., Water company made them tired.

John Robinson, colored, has the Georgetown, Ky., authorities in his wool. He has a large stock of fleeces on hand which he stole from neighboring sheep raisers.

D. J. Brady, of Wabash, Ind., played the Chicago firm for which he traveled for suckers, by pledging $1,400 worth of their jewelry and evaporating with the proceeds. They want him.

Two strangers went into the Houpt gas well at Findlay and struck a match to see how big it was. They will give their measurements when they return from their unexpected trip to the adjoining township.

Hiram Bernard sends in a bill of $6,025 to the city of Mansfield, O., for confining his white soul in the dirty municipal jail on false charges. He says the bugs chewed him $1,000 worth, not to mention other unpleasantnesses.

M. A. Hanna sends a circular to the Ohio delegates of the National Republican convention at Chicago, stating that he has been assessed $725 for the rooms occupied by them at the Grand Pacific. He wants them to pony up $15 apiece, and that's what's the matter with Hanna.

A party of Aurora young ladies were serenading the newly married brother of Simon Hunefeld, who mistook the sweet sounds for a charivari and emptied sloop water upon the singers. The father of one of the warbling damsels mopped the ground with Simon, and the invitation to "come were my love lies dreaming" will be politely declined hereafter in that romantic village.

Sporting Notes.

Trotting races have begun at Pittsburg. Clarkson and Kelly, the $10,000 beauties of the Boston team, are said to be dissipating.

The winners at Monmouth park Tuesday were Rapine, Sorrento, Eurus, Los Angeles, King B and Bracaban.

William Rue, of Danville, Ky., rues the loss of his training stable and thirty fine horses, valued at $75,000, burned Tuesday night.

The track was very heavy at Chicago Tuesday, and there were some upsets. The winners were Keder Kahn, Libretto, Lavinia Belle, Mamie Fonso and Dad.

The Cincinnati base ball club will pay at the home grounds as follows: With Cleveland, July 12, 13, 14 and 15; with Louisville, July 17, 18 and 19; with Kansas City, July 21, 22 and 24, after which they go east.

TUESDAY'S BASE BALL—Cincinnati 5, Athletic 4; Louisville 7, Cleveland 4; Kansas City 4, Baltimore 12; St. Louis 4, Brooklyn 5; Chicago 6, Boston 1; Indianapolis 1, Philadelphia 2; Detroit 4, Washington 0; Pittsburg 0, New York 2.

President Von de Ahe has laid off O'Neill without pay, charges President Byrne, of Brooklyn, with tampering with him, says Umpire Ferguson in a "roller" and is otherwise profuse in his compliments. Brooklyn has defeated him four straight games, which makes him very sore.

DROPPED FROM THE LISTS.

The Fate of the American Ship Farragut, Bound for Calcutta, a Mystery.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The mystery of the fate of the American ship Farragut, which sailed from Calcutta for New York January 20, is the all-absorbing topic in shipping circles. The Farragut was a sister ship of the ill-fated Frank N. Taylor, which was burned in January, 1889, 750 miles from St. Helena, by two Malay sailors, after they had nearly killed the captain and murdered and wounded half the crew.

Capt. Robert K. Clark, who was in command of the Taylor at the time of the tragedy, said:

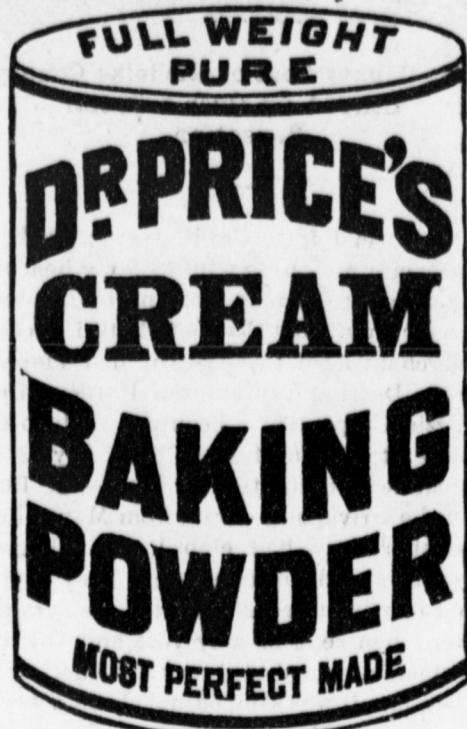

"I for one do not believe the report that has been circulated here to the effect that the wreck of the Farragut has been seen some twelve hundred miles from Calcutta. If the captain who made the report thought it was the Farragut why did he not confirm it in some way. At 1,200 miles from Calcutta he would have been in the region of fine weather, and if he did come to grief it must have been by lightning or by mutiny. It is barely possible that the ship may still be afloat in a crippled condition, but she has been dropped from the maritime lists, and if she is ever heard from at all it will be a tale of blood."

Bald Knobbers Still at Work.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 12.—That portion of Missouri known as the home of the Bald Knobbers—Christian, Taney, Barry and Ozark counties—is striving to surpass former records. During the last two or three months it is estimated that at least 2,000 head of cattle have been stolen in Taney and Christian counties by Bald Knobbers, Uplanders, as they call themselves. One of the bands has been arrested, and a raid on the rest of the gang is contemplated. One of the gang is said to have been murdered by companions for divulging secrets.

Cable War to Be Settled.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The reports of the settlement of the cable war were received in the stock exchange, and several houses having London connections received dispatches from there stating that an agreement had been signed by the managers there to advance rates to twenty-five cents a word. The commercial cable officials state that they have received nothing official about the matter, but that the feeling has been very friendly for some time, and everything is in shape for a settlement. Other parties closely identified with the control of the Western Union said that a settlement had been arrived at and that an effectual announcement would soon be made, but Directors Terry and Moore of the Western Union company denied the reports.
